Government Awaits Disputants' Reply to Strike Proposal

Nation's Labor Front is Still Troubled; Green 'Deplores' Strikes

(By The Associated Press) As the government awaited oil strike disputants' replies to a settlement proposal, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today called for machinery to compose differences "before strikes occur."

Green told a news conference in Chicago he "deplored the present strike situation" in which some 423,000 workers are off the job over the nation. "Much of the trouble," he said, "is the uncompromising attitude of employers."

Employers, he declared, "have to learn that this is a new day, a new era, that collective bargaining is here and that they must set aside their old ideas."

While communities affected by the widespread oil workers strike looked toward Washington for the answer to days of government conciliation efforts, the flow of crude oil through pipelines from Houston to Corpus Christi, Tex., and over southeast Texas, stopped.

The stoppage raised to 5,000 the number of oil workers away from the job in the Houston area. Deliveries of gasoline to about 700 service stations have been cut off.

Detroit Mayor Appeals

Detroit, hard hit by automotive industry strikes, was suffering from shortage of gasoline supplies and its mayor appealed to President Truman and Secretary Schwelb for quick settlement of the oil controversy.

An emergency oil committee investigating the Ohio gasoline situation reported a "state-wide crisis impends" and said it believed "ways must be found without delay to obtain gasoline and oil for essential activities."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, earlier had indicated there was little he could do to relieve the situation caused by a strike of CIO oil workers beyond appealing to the federal government to intervene.

Meanwhile, at Detroit, Vice President Walter P. Reuther of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) announced that General Motors Corp. and the union had opened negotiations over the UAW-CIO 30 per cent wage demand. Negotiations with Chrysler Corp., which began a week ago, are in recess until tomorrow. Strike votes have been set for Oct. 24 at General Motors and Oct. 25 at Chrysler. The union also is petitioning for a strike vote at the Ford Motor company.

New Trouble Threatened New trouble threatened as a strike vote called for Friday was expected to take 200,000 telephone workers off their jobs for four hours.

One of the newest disputes shut down Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corporation's plant in Fort Worth, Tex. Seven hundred AFL machinists struck for a 30 per cent wage increase and other benefits and

Find Jesus' Name on Ancient Urns

Jerusalem, Oct. 3—(AP)—Archaeologists said today they had discovered the name of Jesus, carved before 70 A. D. and perhaps by an eye witness of the crucifixion, among inscriptions on 11 early Christian burial urns found in a cave on the Jerusalem-Bethlehem road.

The urns may provide the "oldest archaeological record of Christianity" and an historical confirmation of the trial and crucifixion of Christ, the archaeologists said. The inscriptions have not yet been translated fully.

A sect of Hebrews who followed Jesus, denounced Pontius Pilate and mourned the Crucifixion of their leader was believed to have left the writings on the ossuaries in the cave.

Pottery, lamps and bottles were discovered with the urns and transferred to the Museum of Jewish Antiquities for study, said Prof. Sukenik, director of antiquities at Hebrew University. He said a full statement would be issued when the inscriptions have been translated.

"At present it is only possible to say that the inscriptions on the urns date from the period immediately preceding the destruction of the Second Temple in the year 70 of the Christian era," he said.

"The Hebrew and Aramaic inscriptions contain common names like Miriam, Simon and Matti. The Greek inscriptions and symbols beside them contain references to Christianity and it seems probable also to the Crucifixion."

AS I SEE IT

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

General Two-Gun Patton's transfer from command of his famous Third Army, in occupation in Bavaria, is being received by the public at large with mixed feelings — relief mingled with regret that misfortune should befall a gallant soldier.

While no official reason has been given for placing the Bavarian administration in new hands, General Eisenhower's move follows Patton's recent statement to the press that some nazis should remain in office for the sake of better administration this winter. This was contrary to Eisenhower's stand for elimination of all nazis from office in accordance with the Big Three declaration of Potsdam.

Patton made a big mistake there, but in assaying his difficulties we shouldn't overlook another error by the outspoken general. When he compared "this nazi thing" to the "Democratic and Republican fight back home" he uttered what he himself later admitted was an "unfortunate analogy."

Now of course there are few who won't praise Patton's aim "to insure ourselves that women, children and old men will not perish from hunger or cold this winter." That surely represents the consensus of American military men in Germany, from Eisenhower down to the ranks, and it represents the sentiment of the folk back home. And we are mighty proud that this is so.

However, the Patton who thinks so fast and accurately on the battlefield erred in assuming that it was necessary or wise to keep nazis in power to achieve this humanitarian goal. That is playing into the hands of Hitler's ghost—or mayhap the fuhrer himself.

It would be disastrous if we overlooked that the nazi underground and the Prussian militarists are busy trying to restore the Hitlerite structure. The easiest way to assist them in re-establishing their barbaric and militaristic Germany is to leave nazis in positions of power to act as "fronts" for the underground. This has been so clear all along that the utter destruction of nazism was made one of the chief allied war objectives.

Another cardinal aim is to render the rich militarily impotent by depriving it of heavy industries.

Roundup of Doings in Washington for Telegraph Readers

Main Activities in National Capital Summarized by Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 3—(AP)—Congress got busy today on whitening down business taxes and government agencies.

President Truman asked it to get busy, too, on a plan for developing power and navigation on the St. Lawrence river. He sent up a message urging approval of a Canadian-American agreement for improving the waterway.

A house committee took a stab at corporation taxes. In the senate, a proposal bobbed up for freeing all servicemen from paying income taxes from the start to the official end of the war. It came from Senator Johnston (D-SC).

The whole house argued about reorganizing the government. The argument was over just how much power Truman should have to abolish or merge bureaus and commissions.

Republicans said reshuffling won't be enough. What is needed is "amputations," they said. But they want to keep more agencies away from the presidential knife than do the Democrats.

Marshall Medal Blocked

Rep. A. L. Miller (R-NEB) blocked house passage of a bill to give a special gold medal to General George C. Marshall, Army Chief of Staff.

Let's wait, he suggested, until congress has made its inquiry into the Pearl Harbor disaster. One investigation, he said, cast reflections on Marshall.

The senate foreign relations committee fired questions at Spruille Braden, former ambassador to Argentina, but took no

Big Cut in U.S. Spending Urged

Washington, Oct. 3—(AP)—The White House said today President Truman has recommended reductions of nearly $40,000,000,000 in funds appropriated for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

A statement said the sum recommended for repeal was slightly in excess of $39,750,000,000 out of total available appropriations of approximately $105,000,000,000.

Funds recommended for repeal included $28,700,000,000 for the Army, $8,200,000,000 for the Navy and $2,800,000,000 for emergency and war-related activities.

"In addition," the statement added, "the president recommended reductions of slightly more than four billion dollars in contract authorizations, 5 and one-third billion in unrequired balances in prior year appropriations and $9,318,307 in administrative expenses for government corporations. An additional $1,190,500 was recommended to be returned to the treasury from government corporations established by the office of inter-American affairs.

"In transmitting his recommendations the president has in each case indicated to the congress that all war and war-related appropriations will be under continuous study. He has declared that he plans another full review of such appropriations and will make a report to congress on Jan. 3, 1946, containing recommendations concerning further adjustments."

Transfer to Paper Army Welcomed by Gen. Patton

Bad Toelz, Germany, Oct. 3—(AP)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., pleasant and almost cheerful though he has been relieved of his beloved Third Army command, said today he "welcomed" his appointment to head the U. S. 15th Army, little more than a headquarters and paper organization. The tank expert said he would yield command of the Third Army, which he led from Normandy to Czechoslovakia, to Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott on Sunday at a goodbye ceremony.

Patton, weighing every word carefully, insisted that he had been doing a good job administering Bavaria and carrying out General Eisenhower's orders for denazification. He carefully avoided any remark which might reflect on his military colleagues or superiors.

There was no air of dejection or rancor about the general, who scored some of the United States' greatest victories in the field.

His job as 15th Army commander will be to write down the lessons learned in the war. He has long been interested in military history and in writing about tactics.

Patton barred quotations for the most part but allowed this one:

Home Only 29 Days

"Since I have been home only 29 days since I came overseas three years ago, I naturally am interested in pushing to rapid completion my new assignment."

His chief of Staff, Col. Paul D. Harkins of Boston, however, said for the record:

"I feel that conditions in Bavaria compare favorably with any other district in Germany in respect to denazification, care of the stateless and displaced persons and in the restoration of sufficient agricultural facilities to prevent starvation or mauling of American taxpayers, to feed the people who otherwise would starve."

Eisenhower relieved Patton as commander of the Third Army and administrator in Bavaria effective Oct. 7.

Eisenhower's orders followed charges that Patton had kept Bavarian nazis in office and was made public four days after the general had been summoned to Frankfurt to give a personal report on his denazification efforts.

Many of the men in Patton's command, proudly recalling their combat service under him, expressed regret at the "Old Man's" ouster.

All Allied Prisoners of War Are Evacuated From Japan and Korea

Tokyo, Oct. 3—(AP)—All of the 50,805 known American and allied war prisoners and civilian internees from camps in Japan and Korea have been evacuated.

The recovered-personnel section of the adjutant general's office, Army Forces of the Pacific, reported today that all are enroute to their homes via the Manila clearing station. Listed as dead were 1,390 others; and 212 as yet unaccounted for were listed as "shaggleys."

The list of those evacuated includes 10,099 Americans, 957 Canadians, 9,570 from the British Isles and 2,108 Australians.

The dead included 518 Americans.

Negro Lawyer Picked to U. S. Customs Court

Washington, Oct. 3—(AP)—President Truman has chosen Irving C. Mollison, Chicago Negro lawyer, for appointment to the U. S. customs court at New York.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark announced the president's decision today as he left the White House in company with Mollison, a native of Vicksburg, Miss., who received his education at the University of Chicago and has practiced in that city for a number of years.

Clark said Mollison would succeed to the vacancy created by the death of the late Tom Walker, a brother of former Postmaster General Frank C. Walker.

Clark said the lifetime post pays $19,000 a year.

Greater Output of Low-Cost Clothing Is Expected by WLB

New Program Put Into Effect Oct. 1 by Two Federal Agencies

Washington, Oct. 3—(AP)—The next two weeks will tell whether supplies of low-cost clothing will increase appreciably soon, a War Production Board official said today.

John D. Small, chief of staff of WPB, told reporters it all depends on the extent manufacturers make use of a new program which gives them government help in obtaining fabric for inexpensive apparel. The program went into effect October 1.

Small said he was confident enough manufacturers would participate, and he added:

"WPB and the OPA are united in a stand that we are going to get low-cost clothing."

Meanwhile OPA predicted there will be some increase in supply of such clothing by November 1.

The agency announced last night that price cuts on a large number of cotton, wool and rayon garments will go into effect then.

So the public will know what to pay, manufacturers will be required to affix retail price ceiling tags to each garment. Around 90 apparel items will be covered by the revision, about twice as many as at present.

Examples of Cuts Here are examples of the price cuts cited by OPA:

Women's rayon dresses, from $9.95 currently to $8; women's wool suits, $29.95 to 26; men's wool suits, $35 to $32.75; and men's overcoats, $37.50 to $35. Proportional reductions are scheduled for children's clothes.

This is the record on garment prices: Since 1939 they have climbed 45 per cent. Since ceilings were fixed on clothing early in the war, prices have risen 16 per cent. Since the hold-the-line order was issued in May 1943 they have increased nearly 14 per cent.

OPA says the principal reason for this has been discontinuance of low-priced lines by many manufacturers. The purpose of the program announced early this year

Young Republicans to Increase Membership

Chicago, Oct. 3—(AP)—A county-by-county campaign to expand the rolls of the Young Republican National Federation within the next two years has been disclosed by John J. Colmar, Chicago, newly elected co-chairman of the organization.

In an address at his installation last night, Colmar said the federal membership goal has been set at 2,500,000 and that within two years the county-by-county program is expected to be perfected.

Twenty-five million young men and women "make a formidable field to cultivate for the Republican party," he declared, and "in 1948 we hope to win by the Republicans receiving over 50 per cent of the youth vote."

Colmar said the GOP lost in 1936 because it received only 30 per cent of the youth vote and in 1940 because it received only 40 per cent.

Threats of Famine Bring Troubles to Nipponese Cabinet

Tokyo, Oct. 3—(AP)—General MacArthur today restricted Japanese overseas financial and business communications to messages he has approved, and warned the Nipponese government to keep its hands off Korea.

Threats of famine brought fresh troubles to the Japanese cabinet.

(Russia meanwhile has announced to the United States its determination to take a hand in control of Japan, the Moscow radio reported. The radio report said formation of a four-power control government for Japan should precede any previously agreed-upon "consultative commission" to direct long-range allied occupation policy.)

American officials today reported they were watching strictly the activities of more than 100 former secret patriotic societies of Japan and "all other subversive" groups. Authorities are particularly vigilant, they said, against any evidence that these groups might be going underground to continue rightist activities which were instrumental in whipping Japan into imperialism.

The warning to Nippon to keep its hands completely off Korean government affairs followed purported "promotions" of Japanese officials or civil functionaries serving in southern Korea. "All such purported promotions are ineffective," allied headquarters asserted, adding "that its own military government is the sole authority in Korea."

Rice Riot Reported

The first report of a rice riot in northern Japan gave further warning today of the approach of inevitable famine—and possible disorders—this winter.

The newspaper, Yomiuri-Hochi, disclosed that 100 Japanese in one village of north Japan, where the current government allotment of rice was reported insufficient, broke into a government warehouse and seized 54 bales. The prefecture police made arrests and recovered most of the rice.

Women by the thousands are writing Premier Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni complaining they are having difficulty obtaining food.

Sgt. Hill Awarded Posthumous Medal

S/Sgt. Theodore J. Hill, deceased, formerly a member of the Army Air Corps, United States Army, has been awarded the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster, the medal being presented to his mother, Mrs. Hilda Hill, who resides at 403 East Seventh Street, Dixon.

The presentation was made at the residence of Mrs. Hill Tuesday afternoon by Lieutenant Ronald S. Halliwell, Air Corps, and Sgt. Dwight Swanson, from the district recruiting office, Rock Island, on orders from the Commanding General, Sixth Service Command, Chicago.

S/Sgt. Hill was awarded the Air Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster for meritorious achievement, in accomplishing with distinction several aerial operational missions over enemy-occupied continental Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this individual in the face of determined opposition materially aided in the successful completion of these missions. His actions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States.

Clinton Soldier's Guerrillas Rescue 4 American Women

Manila—(AP)—Two American women have reached Manila after dramatic rescues by guerrilla troops under command of Col. Russell R. Volckman of Clinton, Iowa.

Mrs. Herman Kluge of Schenectady, N. Y., was hidden by Ifugao tribesmen in the mountains of northern Luzon for 41 months while the Japanese searched for her with a price of 35,000 pesos ($18,500) on her head.

Mrs. Helen J. McQuaid, Los Angeles, spent three years in Japanese prisons before being "kidnaped" by Filipino soldiers just before she was about to be beheaded.

The Japanese chased Mrs. Kluge from village to village in a 200-mile circuit. They also wanted her husband, an American lumberman who had become a guerrilla captain.

Kluge surrendered when the Nipponese threatened to kill every inhabitant of a village near his headquarters. Then he underwent months of torture and finally disappeared behind the grim walls of Fort Santiago. But his wife said she still hoped he would be found alive.

Tribesmen Silent

Mrs. Kluge said she sought refuge with Ifugao tribesmen in a mountain village. To guard her from capture the elders proclaimed that anyone who talked about an American woman being there would be fined 50 centavos in pre-war money, or a three-peso dog.

Real money was non-existent but the people were too hungry to risk losing a fine fat dog, so

Demand Presented as Big Five Council Parleys in London Quit

London, Oct. 3—(AP)—A Moscow broadcast disclosed today that a Russian demand for a four-power control government of Japan had been presented to U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes at the final day of the meetings of the foreign ministers of five leading allied powers.

Shouldering of common responsibility which played a decisive role in the defeat of Japan—a reference to the United States, Russia, Britain and China—was suggested. The implication was that the proposed agency should succeed the arrangement under which General MacArthur has served as allied commander in chief.

The conference adjourned last night after multiple disagreements on procedure, particularly on Balkan peace treaties, but deputies of the foreign ministers continued work.

Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Byrnes and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, in a series of press conferences, gave individual assurances of ultimate agreement on peace treaties for Europe. Each asserted that all difficulties could be solved.

The Moscow radio said the four-power control government for Japan should be formed before the establishment of a proposed Far Eastern consultative commission to direct a long range policy for Japan.

Japan Not Discussed

"Unfortunately, we did not discuss the question of an allied control commission for Japan," Molotov said at the luxurious soviet embassy.

The Russian radio said, however, that the Commissar gave Byrnes a letter setting forth the Kremlin's views.

The Moscow radio said while the military phase of the war and disarmament of Japan continued, "there was reason for the concentration of all functions for the control of Japan in the allied commander-in-chief," Gen. MacArthur.

"However, when the military phase ended, the allies were faced with tasks chiefly of a political, economic and financial character, and to deal with such questions, it is imperative to create an allied organ which would enable the four allied powers which played a decisive role in the defeat of Japan to carry out an agreed policy and to shoulder common responsibility.

"However, the soviet government considers that the creation of such an allied advisory committee must be preceded by the formation by the governments of the four allied powers of a control government for Japan."

Gloabster Delayed; Three Hours Late

Kwajalein, Marshall Islands, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Army Transport Command's first world-circling Gloabster flight, driving to make up nearly three and a half hours lost time, left Kwajalein for Hickam Field, Honolulu, shortly after 7 p. m. local time today.

ATC officers said the big C-54 plane will skip its scheduled stop at Johnston Island, and make the 2,200-mile trip to Honolulu non-stop.

The Gloabster plane reached Kwajalein at 6.30 p. m. today, local time, in its second-try flight from Guam.

The big around-the-world plane, after being 315 miles out of Guam earlier on its 1,551-mile overwater hop, had turned back when one of its four 1,450-horsepower engines cut out.

Capt. Marion H. P. Click of Denver, pilot of the Guam-Kwajalein jump, blamed magneto trouble for the failure.

Another big C-54 was waiting off again with Capt. Click and his crew, at 8:28 a. m. Guam Time. (4:28 p. m., C. S. T.)

The delay put the Gloabster three hours and 28 minutes

STATEMENT BY SENATOR HARRY BYRD (D-VA.)
After exhaustive hearings as a member of the Senate Finance Committee I am convinced that passage of the $25 per week unemployment insurance for 26 weeks will be an incentive to idleness and is not justified under the present conditions. In addition to this the Kilgore bill means, in my judgment, the permanent Federal control of unemployment benefits.

The cost to the Federal Treasury alone will be approximately a billion and a half dollars yearly and this will have to be paid out of borrowed money. The 48 states now have nearly seven billion dollars in hand available for unemployment benefits. This is ample to take care of any present emergency of unemployment. If the State benefits are proven to be inadequate, then the legislatures of the respective states can make additional provisions and still maintain state control of this very important function.

WHY RESTLESS LABOR
Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Labor has three big arguments behind its restless demand for more pay: the cost of living wage controls, and loss of high wartime pay.
Back in 1912 the government set out to keep wages and prices tied together to keep either from rising. Prices make up the cost of living.

The OPA was to keep prices under control. The War Labor Board was to keep wages in line. The government was using a yardstick for this its own figures on the cost of living.

These figures published monthly, are called the cost of living index. Government agents in all cities every month gather information on the prices of things like food, clothing, furniture, rent.

By the summer of 1942 this index showed living costs had risen 17 per cent above January 1941. So the WLB then said wages—on rather the basic rate of pay for a specified job—should be increased no more than 15 per cent above January, 1941.

True, wages were to rise only 15 per cent, but living costs already had risen 17 per cent. The government thought this gap wasn't too big, if living costs and wages could be held to those figures.

But living costs continued to rise. And the individual worker was able to take home more than 15 per cent above what he took home in January, 1941.

He did it this way: Through up-grading—promotion to better paying jobs—because such jobs were more plentiful in wartime—and by working overtime.

Then the war ended. At one strike the workers lost their overtime pay. They went back to a 40-hour week. And a lot of the peacetime jobs won't pay as high as wartime jobs.

Labor looked at that living cost index in August, 1945. It showed living costs had risen about 28 per cent above January, 1941. (In the summer of 1942 remember it had risen only 17 per cent above January, 1941.)

But labor says that living cost index is so inaccurate that it really should be double.

(A special commission appointed by President Roosevelt said the index was too low by about 4 per cent.)

But now President Truman says the 15 per cent limit on wages is

An Hour of This Is Torture

One of many methods of Jap torture practiced on Allied prisoners is demonstrated above by Capt. Gus C. Francis of Salt Lake City, Utah, who was captured at Bataan in April, 1942. A plank was placed behind his knees and he was forced to kneel with arms outstretched. Then two rocks were placed on his palms and he was forced to stay in this position for an hour. Every time he moved he was beaten. He is pictured at Kunming, China.

all off—that anyone can raise wages—if it's a big if! Giving a raise doesn't mean a boss will try to raise prices, too.

So unions want raises that will get workers back to something like their wartime take-home pay. It's a problem now for bosses to decide whether they can give the increases without raising prices.

THE SHOE THAT PINCHED
Chicago.—Isn't it funny when a shoe is placed on the other foot? I certainly enjoyed reading today that Ira Latimer, head of the Civil Liberties committee, complained that Gary school strikers had used "physical intimidation" to keep other pupils from attending classes. Of course it is O. K. for the CIO to keep people from entering a plant where they want to work and make a living. I do not approve of either, but I do enjoy Mr. Latimer's "holier than thou" attitude.

Coming Sunday Will Be Outstanding Day in World Churches

World-Wide Communion Day Planned; Dixon Churches Take Part

October 7, will be World Wide Communion day, when Christians of all races in many lands will come in penitence and faith to the Lord's Table.

In marked contrast to the divided world, Christians everywhere are maintaining their fellowship unbroken and unbreakable. In this lies the hope for the salvation of tomorrow's world.

Each Christian, no matter in what part of the world he lives, will witness to the enduring fellowship which abides in the body of Christ, which is the Church, by his presence at the Lord's Table.

The Objectives

The first objective of the World Wide Communion observance is to demonstrate and symbolize this unbroken Christian fellowship in every church around the world. No church will be engaged in an isolated program. In the Protestant churches of the United States alone, probably 2,000,000 visitors will be enlisted to invite over 25,000,000 communicants to gather with them around the Lord's Table.

The second objective is that each church will plan to have 100% of its membership present at its own communion table.

The third objective is that church attendance will be greatly increased. "Absenteeism" in war industries is alarming to the nation. The "absenteeism" of 65% which is average in Protestant churches at their morning worship service is of equal concern to church leaders.

Participation Urged

The Dixon Ministerial Association urges all Christian believers in Dixon to commune in the church of their choice next Sunday and thus share in the blessing and inspiration which will come to millions in this observance of World-Wide Communion Sunday. The names of Dixon churches joining in this observance and the time of communion service hours will be given in Friday's issue of the Dixon Telegraph.

The electric ironer, left, above, folds up to occupy only 1 1/2 square feet of floor space. Operating features are single knee lever controlling all ironing operations, which are motor-powered, safety release, in case of power failure; and extension boards which provide working surfaces on both ends of the ironer in addition to lap board in front. Shown at right is a combination washer, to be sold either as a clothes or dish-washing machine, according to buyer's choice. Alternate dish-washing or clothes-washing attachments can be bought as "extras."

Fair Enough

by
Westbrook Pegler

(Copyright, 1945, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington, D. C. — A senate document, hitherto apparently overlooked, reveals Elliott Roosevelt in the role of lobbyist for a private electric power corporation in Texas whose interests were threatened by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Elliott addressed an appeal, in behalf of the Texas Power & Light Company, to some one in the White House whom he addressed as "Steve," apparently Steve Early, then his father's principal secretary and a man of great power of influence and decision.

The letter, written on the stationery of Elliott's Texas State Network, his radio chain, was dated Fort Worth, March 1, 1941.

It was placed on record on Feb. 14, 1944, by Carroll L. Beedy, counsel to a sub-committee of the senate committee on agriculture which was investigating the administration of the R. E. A. with particular interest in misfeasance, malfeasance and maladministration.

The witness was Claude Wickard, secretary of agriculture and director and supervisor of the R. E. A. by Roosevelt's appointment.

Beedy asked Wickard if he had told the late Senator Norris, of Nebraska, "the story of alleged maladministration that had occurred under Secretary Wallace, before you came in, that had been reported to you?"

Wickard couldn't remember, and his memory failed him as to several more questions.

Then Beedy asked him, "Did you have any ideas at the time about what you were going to do about it?"

"Yes," Wickard said, "but I didn't think it would be in the public interest to discuss these at the present time."

"We (the committee) are trying to find out what has been done by you to remedy alleged maladministration, to investigate charges of wrong-doing," Beedy continued.

As a public servant, Wickard insisted, nevertheless, that the public had no right to an answer.

Now Beedy came to the Brazos Transmission line in Texas. The Texas Power & Light Company, a private concern, "didn't want this R. E. A. project to be built," he said. Mr. Wickard did condescend to say that he had discussed this case "with some people down in Texas." But to a direct question he refused to name these people.

Q. "Did you discuss it with Elliott Roosevelt?"

A. "No, sir."

Beedy then presented Elliott's letter to "Steve." It was three pages long and a plea to "Steve" on behalf of Texas Power & Light.

The letter granted it was a good idea to extend electric service in west and central Texas but said there was "no excuse whatever" to establish "experimental plants" or "yardsticks" in the eastern area.

In Training

Kansas City, Mo.—(AP)—Halloween pranksters are off to an early start here.

Police reports for the night showed: Pranksters pushed a railroad freight car across Park Avenue, blocking the street; a 15-ton gasoline roller was driven a block up the street, stopping traffic; a park bench was placed across the street car tracks.

"I am genuinely and personally interested in this thing," Elliott wrote "Steve." "I know that it involves a major policy but a policy which has not so far received the sanction of the president. It is new and untried. It might, if unsuccessful from the standpoint of providing adequate and continuous service, do more harm to the rural electrification program than good. I know these people down here and I know they will do anything necessary to a full cooperation with any federal agency and still stay in business."

Some of the people down there previously had softened a "hot oil" criminal case by the social approach to the White House, as a measure of their "full cooperation" with the government. Of this, more particulars in a later installment of the exploitation of the presidency.

"If you need any facts," Elliott wrote, "call me and I will get them or tell you who to get in touch with. Please do everything you can to see to it that nothing is decided until I can see you in Washington—probably next Wednesday evening if you're available."

Beedy seemed to think this intervention by the president's son through the White House in a matter affecting big private capital interests was pertinent to his own interest in irregularities in the R. E. A.

"I refer to it," he said, "because I have been questioning the secretary (Wickard) about what he did to investigate any charges with reference to malfeasance or misfeasance in the administration of the R. E. A., either within or without it."

These matters, he it remembered, Wickard believed to be none of the public's business.

Beedy said he was informed the powerline eventually was built with R. E. A. money and a colloquy developed the clear fact that there was a rivalry in which Elliott's friends, the private interests, wanted the power for sale for profit.

The nature of Elliott's own "genuine" and "personal" interest, as to whether he might gain money, was not brought out. There was no statement as to whether his friends paid him a fee for by-passing the appropriate authorities to appeal straight to his father's chief secretary and occasional vicar.

It is not amiss to say that professional lobbyists get fees in proportion to their connections and the values at stake and that, like doctors, who are paid though the patient dies, the political fixer or lobbyist may collect though his efforts fail.

A single female mackerel carries as many as a half million eggs.

eat until 7. Be a pleasure." He didn't rush because there was abundant time, but he did take his car immediately and head off down the old road from the mine. It swung south and west from Tonto Mountain, winding in picturesque way.

When he reached Blair he paused to chat a bit with the postmaster. Leana's parcel hadn't arrived, after all. She would be disappointed.

Vaguely he wondered why a mere microscope lens, or whatever it was, could be so urgent. There were other microscopes at hand in the laboratory. But then, a person gets used to a favorite one, he knew. He switched the talk to deer hunting.

"Shore thing, Dr. Hale," the postmaster was friendly, "it's deer as'll run right over you around here in autumn time! Shore you're born! Big bucks with 10, 20 points all up in that Tonto Mountain country. You stick here till October, you'll see. You got a good rifle?"

They went into the matter of guns, man talk. They were examining the postmaster's own 30-30 when—

BROO-O-O-O-O-O!

THE earth trembled, shook them to their very teeth! Glass cracked and fell from the bursting shock of the explosion.

Bob's muscles froze.

The postmaster looked quickly at him in consternation. Neither spoke at first. Then both looked out.

The late sun-yellowed sky back toward Tonto was blooming in a magnificent mass of black earth and rocks and shooting flame.

They saw it boil. Saw it grow—billowing, spreading, roaring and echoing furiously now. It was greater than anything in their comprehension. It was reaching out over half the horizon, as if it meant to engulf all the universe.

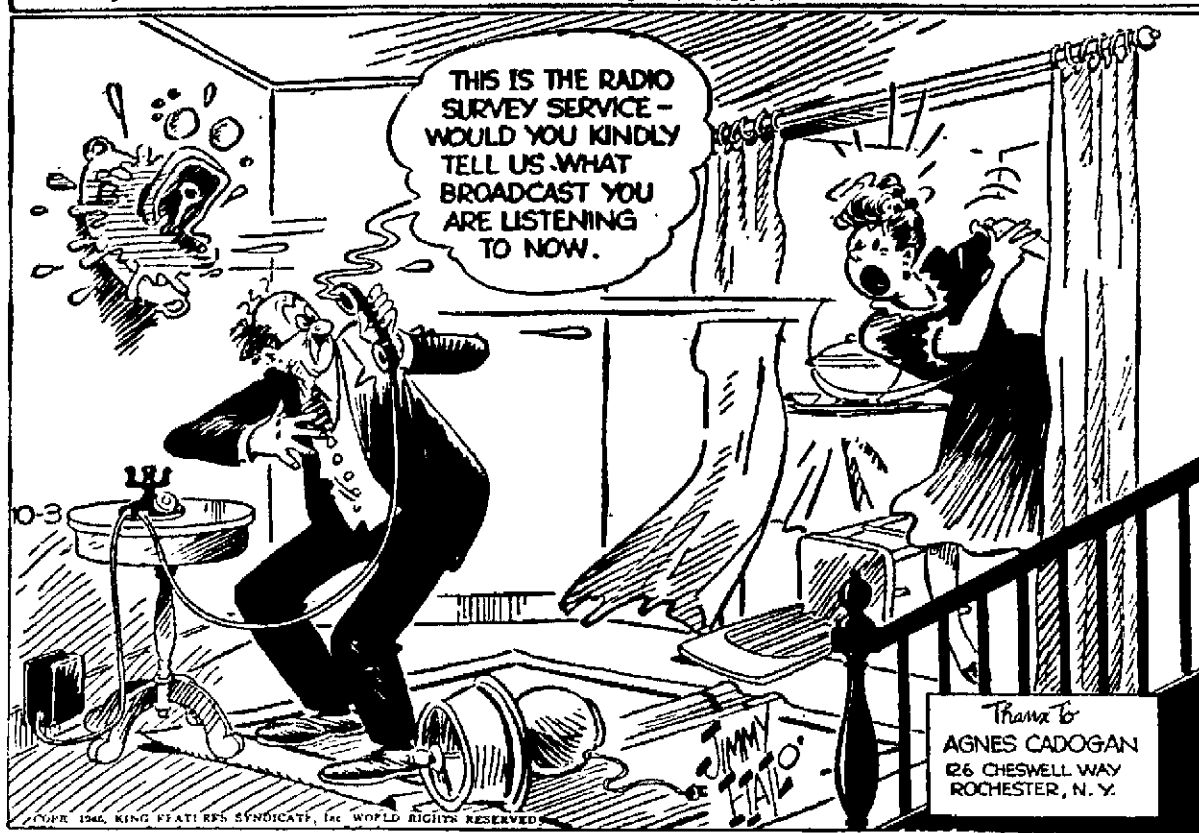

"I know!" Bob rasped, from the deep frenzy now within him. "It's—Carolyn's there! Carolyn's still there! . . . Come on! . . . Oh, my God! . . . Carolyn!"

The two men were running to Bob's car.

"Youngsters" Seek Offices in V.F.W.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—(AP)—World War 2 veterans made a bid today to begin taking over leadership of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

At least one candidate among the younger men at the 46th national encampment was openly out for the post of junior vice commander, a traditional stepping stone to the post of commander-in-chief of the organization heretofore run by veterans of World War 1 and previous wars.

He was Edward Neller, 30, a native of Mitchell, S. D., and a newspaperman with the New York Sun's Washington bureau, a veteran of two years service in the Pacific, retired for disability after being wounded by shrapnel on a central Pacific isle.

From informal caucuses among the World War 2 delegates came word that there might be other "youngster" candidates for the post. Convention spokesmen said two or three candidates among World War 1 men also might go to the election post, with voting due tomorrow.

The retiring Commander-in-Chief, Jean A. Brunner of New York, said World War 2 veterans outnumber overseas veterans of all previous wars three to one. Spokesmen said the figure was about 750,000 out of a total membership of more than 1,000,000.

Since 1896 there have been 21 major earthquakes in Japan, each of which has killed more than 1,000 persons.

Cops and Robber

Spokane, Wash.—(AP)—Police Capt. Lee Markwood and Sgt. Dan Mangum, off duty, stood in front of the police station and watched with interest a nervous and irritated driver trying to get out of a parking space.

Markwood remarked that the man was "probably mad because he had to pay a fine."

But that was before J. V. Wolff ran up to announce his car had been stolen.

See How FRAM Oil Filters Save Costly Auto Repairs

WHY does your car need an oil filter?

Well, one look at a used filter cartridge . . . with its masses of dirt, grit and carbon, its gobs of sticky sludge . . . will show you how Fram filters save costly repairs, add miles to the life of your car. Because if these impurities were not trapped within an oil filter, they would be in your motor, grinding away moving parts, clogging oil channels, causing breakdowns and motor trouble.

"How's Your Oil Filter?"

But with a Fram oil filter . . . or a Genuine Fram Replacement Cartridge in your present filter . . . dirt, grit, carbon and sludge are filtered out and oil is kept visually clean. So visit your service station today. Have them make the 30-Second Fram Dipstick Test. "The Dipstick tells the story." If oil is clean, it will look clean. But if your oil is dirty, you'll know you need Fram protection. Save big repair bills and help keep your motor young. Visit your service station and have them make the free Fram Dipstick Test.

LOVE BRAVES AN ATOM BOMB

by OREN ARNOLD Copyright by NEA SERVICE, INC.

WHEN X-999 EXPLODES—

XVII
KNOWLEDGE of her power at this moment, and of the vengeance she was about to wreak on the Tyler girl, gave Leana Sorni's face a wild look of exhilaration. She threw her transmitter switch as if the act were a definite little finale.

And finale it was! Not even Leana Sorni, brilliant scientist, had known the extreme potency of X-999!!!

Simultaneously with her touch of that switch, all of hellfire itself belched over the universe.

The earth shook in a staccato of doom. Tonto Mountain, it appeared, was lifted skyward. A great spreading bulk blacked out the light of day, extended eastward over a full five miles, then came pelting—crashing—down in an all-consuming bombardment.

The top half of Mummy Ridge itself was blown square off and a minute later it and all its area there to the east were buried under countless tons of debris. The very physiography of a mountain range was being altered. And nobody—no living soul—heard Leana Sorni give her long, hysterical scream.

FROM other points of view (as told countless times in the months and even years to follow) the explosion of Tonto Mountain was that of a volcano, no less. Except that this particular volcano spewed fire from only one side of its mouth, after first bursting out an opening.

The actual eruption was not straight up, but angled. The great force of the explosion naturally took the path of least resistance. The west half of Tonto Mountain was a bulky work of granite, virtually solid rock a mile thick at its base. A flat white face of that granite had showed at the peak to form a landmark for centuries. But in nature's own eruptions eons ago she had loosened and stirred the eastern half of Tonto, opening its strata and piling there loose boulders, smaller rocks and soils. It was this loose deposit which gave way under the force of X-999's explosion.

The granite half stood firm, merely shaken by the recoil.

The circumstance proved to be extremely fortunate for many human beings who had dared escape science themselves in nature's bosom here. It was as if nature had kept a benign hand over them and their little huts. Not that the huts escaped damage—every window in the scientists' village was broken, and every china dish, every bit of glass equipment in the laboratory.

Rock chimneys were toppled over. One cabin was moved quite off its foundation. The stables, flimsy structures at best, were flattened and three of the horses killed. A dozen major or minor avalanches were started on neighboring mountains.

WHEN Carolyn and Leana left him at the stables shortly after 5 o'clock, Bob Hale lingered to rub down his black gelding rather than give the task to a stable boy.

About 15 minutes later he was called to the stable telephone. It was Leana.

"Robert, dear," she began, "is it too much to ask that you drive in to Blair for me, at once? There is some equipment—a microscope part—which I simply must have in the laboratory early tomorrow morning, and I really wanted it tonight. It was due on the mail stage today and the Blair post-office closes at 6."

"Surely, Leana! I can drive right over now. Our group doesn't

TROUSSEAU TEA INCLUDED AMONG PARTIES FOR MISS LEONE KREIM, BRIDE-TO-BE

One of Dixon's most popular young brides-to-be, Miss Leone Kreim, is enjoying a round of prenuptial events before her marriage to Sgt. George Campbell, Jr. who is expected to arrive in the United States from long service in the Pacific in the near future.

Attractive arrangements of fall flowers decorated the home of the future bride's parents yesterday afternoon when her mother, Mrs. Frank H. Kreim, 308 East Everett street, entertained over 50 friends at a trousseau tea from 3 to 5 o'clock. Yellow and white fall flowers mixed with a touch of ageratum, and yellow tapers in candelabra, graced the tea table where the senior Mrs. George Campbell, Mrs. John Haines and the Misses Jean Bovey and Anna Jean Crabtree poured during the afternoon.

The Pines was the destination for a group of Miss Kreim's friends last Saturday, when Mrs. Paul Fotts and Miss Jean Bovey entertained at a luncheon in her honor. Twelve guests were seated at a long table where bronze and yellow chrysanthemums, and candelabra with white tapers were used along with clever place cards.

Those present were the honored guest, Misses Lyle Myers, Raymond Toot, Allen Boyd, Charles Marshall, William Thompson, George Cain, and Mrs. Sigurd Johansen of Chicago. Others were the Misses Anna Jean Crabtree, Barbara Campbell and the two hostesses.

Following luncheon the party went to the home of Mrs. Fotts, where they finished towels for the future bride's kitchen. Kitchen gifts were also given to the honoree.

Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Marshall are planning a party for Thursday evening and former co-workers of Miss Kreim's at the Illinois Northern Utilities company, plan to compliment her on Tuesday night, Oct. 9.

There are more than 2,300 community forests in the United States.

Miss Hedy Logan, — Pfc. Lee McCoy Wed on Tuesday

The Rev. Floyd L. Blewett officiated at the marriage of Miss Hedy Logan, 1106 Walnut avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Logan of Oregon, when she repeated nuptial vows yesterday afternoon with Pfc. Lee McCoy, son of Virgil McCoy of LaCrosse, Wis. The ceremony was read in the Methodist church at 3:30 o'clock. The bride wore a smart dress of a new shade called "morning glory" with black accessories, and pinned at her shoulder was a gardenia and white chrysanthemum corsage. Mrs. Floyd Ridderbjeke attended the bride wearing a fuchsia colored dress, black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mr. Ridderbjeke served as best man.

The new Mrs. McCoy was graduated from the Oregon high school and has been making her home here while doing war work at the Green River ordnance plant for 32 months. Private McCoy, also a graduate of Oregon high school, has just returned to this country after 17 months' service with the eighth air force in England. After a short honeymoon he will report to Tampa, Fla., for a new assignment.

SCRAMBLE SUPPER

The Mothers' Council of the Grace Evangelical church will meet at 6:30 p. m. Thursday to leave for the home of Mrs. Donald Donoho of Eldena, who will be hostess with Mrs. Norman Dietrich for a regular meeting. A scramble supper will be held and members are asked to furnish table service and a dish of food to pass. The main course will be furnished by the hostesses.

AT NACHUSA

Mrs. H. Mack, Mrs. R. E. Erickson and Mrs. Charles Jenkins of Grand Detour, and Miss Calla Greig of Dixon, were dinner guests at the Nachusa House last evening.

Chas. Redebaugh's Will Be Honored at Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Redebaugh are enjoying a round of parties being given in their honor by friends and relatives following his return to civilian life after receiving his honorable discharge from the armed forces.

Mr. Redebaugh, who has been serving with the army for almost three years, took part in the huge wartime job of the transportation division of the quartermaster corps in dispatching vital materials to the front. He visited England, Scotland, Wales, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany during his time in service, and returned to the United States via Marseille, Africa, South America and Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Belcher, the Paul Blacks, Earl Webers and Fred Kingsleys will hold open house this evening at the Belcher home in honor of the Redebaughs, so their many friends can welcome him back to town.

On Sunday Mrs. Maude Redebaugh of Buda will entertain in their honor. Mr. Redebaugh's brother, Arthur, and his wife of Detroit, are expected to arrive in time for the party.

MRS. POLLOCK IS NEW PRESIDENT OF BETA SIGMA PHI

At a meeting of Beta Sigma Phi, Gamma Mu chapter, in the Loveland Community House Thursday evening, Edith Pollock was appointed president to fill the vacancy occurring when Clara Gray resigned the post. Miss Gray presided at this meeting.

A social program on speech and the art of conversation was given, and Bernice Burhonn and Clara Gray presented several interesting articles on these subjects.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Baptist church will meet with Mrs. Curtis Pittman, 515 West Seventh street, at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

ILMS OF ITALY SHOWN ON CHURCH COUNCIL PROGRAM

The Women's Missionary Council of the Christian church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. G. Wells on East Third street. A brief business session was conducted by Miss Lois Fellows, president, after which the program chairman, Mrs. Winfield Riffle, presented the topic of study. She was assisted by Mrs. Gra Flanningham who led the devotional period.

Following the regular lesson study, Mrs. Riffle introduced Homer Schildberg, veteran of World War II, who showed colored pictures he took while stationed in Italy for two years. Mr. Schildberg gave interesting commentary in connection with the subjects filmed, which included pastoral scenes taken in various sections of Italy along with the various architecture and Italian artistry as shown in the church interiors. Some interesting scenes of military life also were a part of the program.

Mrs. Harry Nettz, social chairman, served refreshments at the close of the meeting. The council will meet again on Nov. 6 at the home of Miss Lena Nettz.

NELSON VISITOR

Donald Wiggins is visiting with the L. S. McCords of Nelson after returning from the European theater of war and receiving an honorable discharge. Mr. Wiggins received his first training at Fort Riley, Kan., and was then sent to Boulder City, Nev., as a member of the military police guarding Boulder Dam. After that he was sent to Fort Mason, Cal., where he began training in the paratroopers, finishing his training at Fort Benning, Ga.

Mr. Wiggins went overseas in 1943 and was stationed in England before taking part in the Normandy invasion and later the Ardennes breakthrough. He holds the presidential citation with oak leaf cluster, four battle stars, the Purple Heart, American and European theater ribbons and good conduct ribbon.

TO CHICAGO

Miss Mary Louise Smith has returned to Chicago after spending a two weeks' vacation with her grandmother, Mrs. Robert Fulton, 324 North Galena avenue, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Smith of Rock Island. Miss Smith is employed in the membership department of the Chicago Motor club.

TRAVEL CLUB

Members of the Foreign Travel club are asked to meet at the Nachusa House promptly at 6:30 p. m. for the club dinner tomorrow evening. This will make it possible to be on time for the club program which immediately follows the dinner at the Loveland Community House.

Jr. Woman's Club Arranging Party for Hallowe'en

When members of the Junior Woman's club met last night at the Loveland Community House, plans were made for a Hallowe'en party to be held at the Loveland House on Oct. 16. Those planning to attend are to notify Mrs. Rich and Woodyatt R-1191 or Lorraine Wiekey, K704.

Gertrude Wallin presided at the business meeting which was followed by a musical program under the direction of Eugene Barnage. The first selection was a cornet duet "Call of the Sea," by Richard Worley and Harold France. They were accompanied by William Worley at the piano. Mr. Worley then played a medley of piano selections and also accompanied the group for community singing. At the close of the program refreshments were served by the hostess, Lois Rosebrook and Mrs. Robert Vest.

STATE O. E. S. HAS CONVENTION

The 71st annual convention of the Illinois Grand chapter of the Eastern Star was held Tuesday and today in Chicago at Medinah temple. A national officer of the organization, Mrs. Eva Holland Hamilton of Chicago, whose title in the society is right worthy grand conductress of the General chapter, gave a welcoming address. Heading the Illinois chapter was Mrs. James Breedlove of Arcola. Mrs. Anton Thompson of Chicago is slated to succeed Mrs. Breedlove in office.

SCOUT LEADERS GET SPECIAL TRAINING

Dixon Scout leaders will meet this evening in the Loveland Community House to take part in a training course which Miss Evelyn Kakke, a staff member of the regional office in Chicago, is carrying on.

Brownie leaders will gather at the Loveland House on Thursday evening to receive training in a special course. Both meetings are to begin at 7:30 o'clock.

WELCOME SON

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carlsen of Shreveport, La., are the parents of a son born there on Sept. 30. Mr. Carlsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Carlsen of Palmyra, received his discharge from the army last week. He was a member of the army air force.

AT K. S. B.

Young Dickie McMillion, son of Eugene McMillion, radio technician of the navy, and Mrs. McMillion, underwent an operation for appendicitis Monday at Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital and has been very ill, but was reported to be improving this morning.

SCRAMBLE SUPPER The Goodfellow Sunday school class meeting and scramble supper will be held Thursday evening at the Harry Herbst cottage, near Grand Detour.

CHICAGO VISITOR Mrs. George E. Shaw is visiting at the home of Mrs. John Dille in Chicago.

Borowy, Newhouser to Open Series Today

Tigers Are Favored to Win Series

By SID FEDER
Detroit, Oct. 3.—(AP)—If the weather man only cooperates, the Detroit Tigers and the Chicago Cubs collide in newly-painted Briggs Stadium today in the first game of the 1945 World Series, before what is likely to be an all-time record Detroit baseball crowd.

With 5,000 standing room tickets to be added daily to the completely snapped-up 44,000 reserved seats and 10,000 bleacher benches in a pennant-wacky city, the chances are all in favor of a jam-packed turnout within shouting distance of the 60,000 mark. Thus, the local series record crowd of 55,189 would not only be eclipsed, but a new all-time high in attendance here would be reached.

They gave Mr. Briggs' ballyard a special face-lifting for this party with a $30,000 coat of paint, dressing everything up in its go-to-meetin' best for the first Cub-Tiger taffy pull in ten years.

Need Good Weather
So if the weather man now only sticks by his promise of "cloudy and warmer with fresh northwest winds" the last war-time ball clubs tangle at 12:30 p. m. Central Standard Time.

If this fall frolic should go the fully derby distance of seven games, no one would be flabbergasted to see the customers kick in more than the $1,322,328.21 which made the Tigers-Reds 1940 "rattle" the richest of them all.

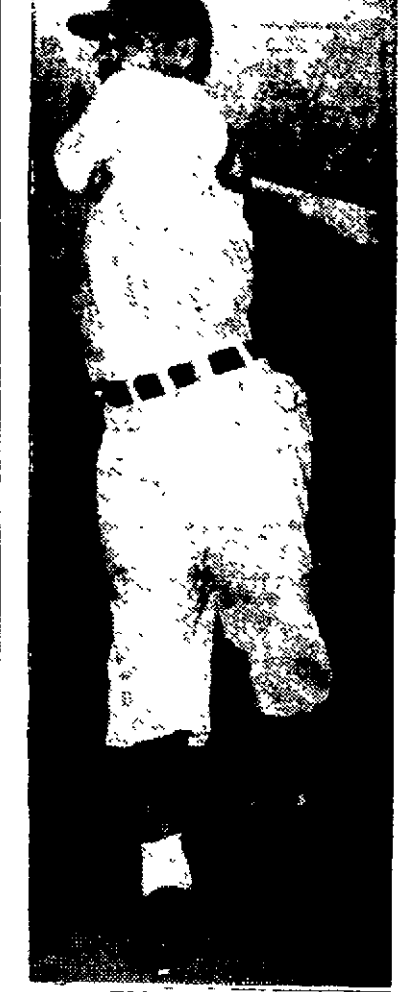

There were no last minute changes in the lineup and batting order of either of the teams as they headed for the ball orchard at Michigan and Trumbull Avenues to pry the lid off the series that has its first three games here today, tomorrow and Friday—then goes to Wrigley Field Chicago to complete its run.

Lefty Hal Newhouser, the 25-game winner and most-feared flinger in the American League, goes to the post for the Tigers in the opener, a 5 to 7 favorite to come home a-galloping.

Opposing him, the Cubs called on Hank Borowy, the mild, likeable right-hander they bought from the Yanks as "pennant infield, headed by handy Andy Pafo, probably the fanciest fly-chaser to come down the pike during the war, along with pitching strength in depth and a balanced hitting power that sports three .300 hitters for 1945.

First-baseman Phil Cavarretta came roaring back this summer to win the National League batting crown with .355. Veteran third-sacker Stan Hack hit .322 and Don Johnson, a sure zippy second-baseman, wound up with .302.

Two of the starters in the Cub lineup, Cavarretta and Hack, were in that '35 series with the Tigers, and judging from their hitting this season, haven't been hurt a bit by the years.

Among the Tigers, the only '35 holdovers are Greenberg, a World Series wallpaper who has batted .323 and knocked in 15 runs in three of these fall fuses, and Tommy Bridges, who won two games from the Cubs that year.

Team Lineups
Probable lineups for today's opening game of the 1945 World Series between the Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers (batting averages and pitchers' won-lost records in parentheses):

Chicago (NL)—Detroit (AL)
Hank 2b .322 Webb ss .260
Johnson 3b .302 Mayo 2b .255
Cavarretta 1b .355 Greenberg 1b .310
Pafo cf .287 Cullenbine rf .272
Nelson lf .247 York 3b .247
Lindstrom 2b .254 Outlaw 3b .272
Hughes ss .248 Richards c .252
Borowy p .21-7 Newhouser p .25-8
(Borowy's record with both Cubs and Yankees)

Stastica to Illini
Champaign Ill. Oct. 3 (AP)—Corp. Stan Stastica, one of the heroes of Bastogne in France and one of Rockford Ill. high school's greatest all-around athletes, may be in the backfield when Illinois and Indiana meet here Saturday.

Stastica recently discharged from the army is seeking permission to enroll at Illinois. He played "tush" in football at the University of South Carolina before going into the service, and transfer of his credits here will determine the most part whether he will be eligible to play Saturday.

He reported for practice yesterday and coach Ray Eliot immediately put him into the backfield in an effort to bolster a running attack seriously weakened by the loss through injuries of Eddie McGovern and Eddie Bray, halfbacks, and George Bugan, center and fullback.

Stastica was captain, and star, of the 1939 state champion Rockford high basketball team and also played football and was a track star.

A few dollars invested in Scouting is money invested towards a Better Dixon and a Greater America.

Sales Dept. took over the top spot in the I. N. U. loop with nine wins and three losses, after handing the Statistical Dept. a three-game loss. Nelson, 504, topped the Sales Dept. and Eddie Worley led Statistical with 550.

Power Station No. 3 won two from Accounting No. 2, holding the latter to second place with 8-4. C. Arnold was high for the Power Station with 476 and Gross rolled 449 to lead Accounting.

Gas Dept. won two from Machine Shop, dropping the latter into a four-way tie for third with Engineering, Power Station 2 and District D. Clausen was high for Gas Dept. with 408 and E. Cox totaled 508 to spark the Machine Shop.

Garage took two out of three from Engineering with Bill Stevens 517 high for Garage and Donaldson's 454 high for Engineering.

Accounting Dept. No. 1 took two sets from Power Station 2 with Jim Mercer leading Accounting with 504 and Smith's 494 high for the Power Station.

District "D" gained their share of third by winning all three of their games from Kilowatts. Ken Hasselberg topped District "D" with 520 and Kittelson's 427 was high for Kilowatts.

Traveling Auditors won two from Draftsmen with Gehant's 503 high for the Auditors and Joyce rolling 508 to top Draftsmen.

Contract Dept. was the other two-game winner over Power Station No. 1. E. Kingery's 449 was high for Contract and Guppy led the Power Station with 485.

Eddie Worley had the high series of the night with 550 and high games were Hasselberg's 520, Joyce's 514, Lieving's 506, Trautwein's 517 and Santee's 500.

In the Lincoln Lanes Men's loop the Farmers took over first with 8-4 after winning three from Curran's Grocery. Hank Chamness was high for farmers with 524 and C. Emmert's 447 led Curran's.

A. & P. won two from Modern Woodmen, throwing these five into a tie for second with 7-5. Bill Austin topped A. & P. with 491 and Blocher's 439 topped the Woodmen.

State Hospital Mechanics took all three of their games from the State Hospital Accountants with Emmert's 507 high for the winners and Hill leading the Accountants with 427.

Knights of Columbus took two from Nachusa with Avon Hackett topping the Catholics with 542 and Strong's 462 high for Nachusa.

Avon Hackett had the high series of the night with 542 and Hank Chamness had the only high count with 503 in his second set.

The I. N. U. Keglers put on quite a contest for the first appearance in the Doghous, but Wahlola with 135 and L. Hoyle's 117 won out in the close decisions.

Stauffer was the most consistent bowler in the I. N. U. league with a difference of three pins in his 10 games of 126-123. At Lincoln Lanes, Thompson's spread of two pins was the closest with 115-117-115. A feud has developed between Matt Moerschbacher of the United Cigar Classic league team and Bill Keenan, who listened to the blandishments of Dr. Lazier this year and quit the United to take a spot on Shell Oil. Yesterday we listened in while Matt, who bows against Bill tonight, was telling Earl Jones how he intended to enter Bill up all three games, and then last night we met Bill and he told us the same thing in reverse, so it should be interesting to watch these two battle it out tonight.

Ray Prindaville, with his head still in the clouds, is unable to see the head pin as he formerly was consistently around "500", but last night just managed to eke out 401 with a 100 count in his last set.

With so many teams lacking a cheering section, it's a shame such clamorous fans as Anna Marie Komasa, Jovita Prindaville and Mary Lou Burke waste their enthusiasm on the I. N. U. Statistical Dept., for in spite of their cheering and applauding, Bill Ferguson's five couldn't even win one game last night.

Series Notes
BY JERRY LISKA
Detroit, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Tee shots on the world series.

Fordham Hank Borowy will have a lot on his mind besides the Detroit Tigers and some $6,000 series swag in his opening duel with Hal Newhouser today. The slim right-hander will become a father any minute now, which is why Mrs. Borowy isn't here cheering hubby. The Borowys have a daughter.

The former New York Yankee tosser was calmly confident as he took on the Bengals. "I know how to pitch to them and my arm is stronger than it has been all season," blonde Hank quietly asserted.

The Tigers to a man faced Borowy without any false illusions. "We know he's tough but we are counting on Newhouser to be just a little tougher," declared Roy Cullenbine. Hank Greenberg, who clouded a homer off Borowy last July when the latter was still a Yankee, rated the ex-American leaguer as the one Cub pitcher who may bother the Tigers.

Tied to Rudy York's dressing room locker was a town-colored cocker spaniel puppy. "I bought her yesterday," declared the brown Tiger first sacker. "She may bring me luck and maybe she won't but she's really a cutie."

The least gregarious guy in the Cub retinue is Lou Warneke, who pitched the only two Bruin triumphs in the 1935 series against the Tigers. "I haven't seen the Tigers so I don't have any comment to make," drawled the once-brilliant Ark nuss humming bird, who apparently is just along for the ride this time. Warneke will call his baseball career quits after this season.

Lefty Ray Prim, the Cubs' 38-year-old 13-game winner, pitched against Greenberg 11 years ago when both were rookies in the Piedmont League. He used to hit home runs then, too," recounted silver-tongued Prim. "I don't remember whether he got any on me."

Eddie Mayo, infield sparkplug of the Tigers tossed off numerous congratulations on his selection by the Sporting News, baseball weekly as the American League's most valuable player with the remark, "It's a great honor but I'm embarrassed to win it with all these pros around."

Jim Outlaw, Detroit third sacker, admitted in the presence of his small son that the nerve-racking American League title race had given him "butterflies in the stomach."

"What's the matter pup?" questioned the hen. "Been sleeping with your mouth open?"

According to a Japanese legend, the island group of Japan was formed when Izanah, a god, thrust his heavenly jeweled spear into the deep. As he withdrew it the shower of drops that fell from the spear were transmuted into land.

We see that ex-baseball commissioner Landis left his whole estate to his wife, who refused to take more than one third of it. The other two parts will go to his other close relations.

Speed Saunders' baseball team, that is what is left of it, is rapidly getting out of practice and condition. . . . If they play the Old Times Sunday, it will probably be more like an endurance race than a baseball game. The contest will undoubtedly be decided on which side can hold out the longest. However, the Old Times, who would rather be referred to as the Reynold's Wire club are still the long shots in the game.

The little Dukes, the lightweight, will go to Rock Falls Friday afternoon to play the Rocket Rightweights. . . . From the little we have seen of coach Leverage's squad, they look fast and tough, and should be a tough bunch in the next two or three years.

More than 90 per cent of the coal mined in Japan is of mediocre quality—low bituminous or sub-bituminous.

Nineteen of the peaks of the Andes mountains exceed 20,000 feet in elevation.

Pugilist Dies

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Involuntary manslaughter charges have been filed against Andy Hetlin, 18-year-old Taylor (Pa.) middleweight boxer, following the death of his Monday night opponent, Johnny Dezmuski, 32, of Plains, Pa.

Dr. Paul Hubasko, Lackawanna County coroner, said Dezmuski's head struck the ring floor after he was dropped by a punch less than a minute before the end of the four-round bout. He was taken to a hospital where he died several hours after the fight.

(Central Standard Time)
World series Thursday—12:15 p. m. MBS—Second game from Detroit.

New York, Oct. 3 (AP)—Apparently, special programs built to depict what the new network season is offering in the way of shows is becoming a regular policy.

On a couple of Sunday afternoons in September, CBS presented what it listed as previews of its schedule, divided between New York and Hollywood productions. Now next Sunday evening and Monday night, NBC is preparing to display its entertainment wares in two one-hour sections. It refers to the presentations as a "sampling" for the listeners and is setting aside sponsored shows to provide the air space.

The first hour, Sunday at 4 p. m., will concentrate on programs from the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday schedules, including such stars as Fibber McGee and Molly, Eddie Cantor and others to give the spot-lights.

Monday's second edition at 9 takes the rest of the week, Thursday through Sunday, to include Jack Benny, Burns and Allen, etc.

Coming up tonight: CBS 9:30 Andrews Sisters with Gene Froman as guest after moving from ABC; 10:30 Col. A. C. Oliver, Jr., Army Chaplain guest speaker in "C. M. H. drama honoring Jose Calugas, Philippine war hero."

All networks are scheduling for 11:30 p. m. Friday the address of Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz before a joint session of congress. The newly formed Associated Chain also plans to carry the speech, followed by a description of the Washington parade in his honor.

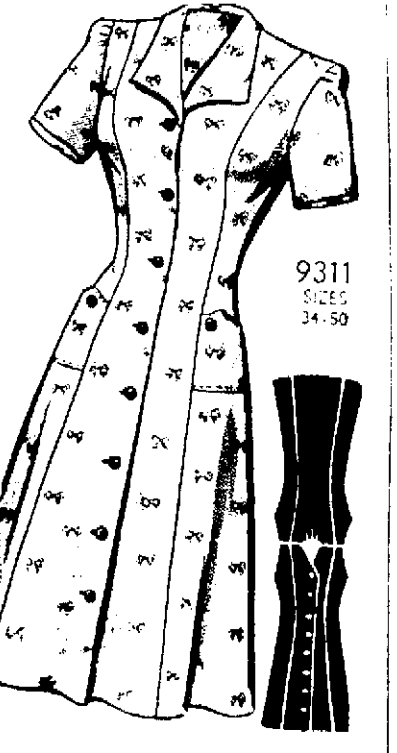

Dialing tonight (Wednesday): NBC—Mr. and Mrs. North, 8:30; 9:30 Kay Kyser hour; 10:30 CBS—Jack Carson comedy; 7:30 Dr. Christian; 8:30 Ann Sothern's Maise; 9 Great Moments in Music; ABC—7:30 Fishing and Hunting; 8:30 The Great Gilday; 9:30 Counter Spy; MBS—7:30 Bert Wheeler comedy; 8:30 Artie Shaw band; 9:30 Ralph Slater, hypnotist.

Thursday programs: NBC—5:30 a. m. Daytime Classics; 1 p. m. Guiding Light; 5:30 Sports Spotlight; 8:30 Jack Haley comedy; 10:30 We Came This Way, finale; "A Song for Franklin Roosevelt." CBS—2:30 Milton Bacon tales; 4:30 School of the Air; 5:15 New Patric Clayton song series; 6:30 Mr. Keen's drama; 8 Kostelanetz music and Lily Pons. ABC—8 a. m. Breakfast Club and Geo. Jessel; 11:30 a. m. Farm and Home; 7:30 p. m. Chester Bowles on OPA; 8:15 Raymond Swing; 7 Lim and Abner; MBS—8:15 a. m. Shady Valley Folks; 11:45 Sen. J. E. Murray on "Problems of Small Business"; 3:40 p. m. Melodrama; 7:15 Hugh Thompson's song; 9:30 Swing's the Thing.

Chicago.—I see where Rep. O'Toole (D-NY) introduced legislation to give all federal employees a 25 per cent increase in their base pay. Isn't that ducky? Why might I ask, aren't the rest of the white collar workers entitled to such an increase, if we are going to have to continue paying high taxes to support a selected few that aren't worth the salt to blow them home to the 48 states, where they belong. Sunday school at 10 a. m.
Worship service at 11 a. m.
Young People's meeting at 7:30 p. m.
Choir rehearsal Friday at 7:30 p. m. at C. A. Ulrich's.

Rally Day was observed in the Sunday school last Sunday when there was an attendance of seventy and a collection of $7.10. Promotions were as follows: From cradle roll to beginners department, Joy Ann Thomas, Herbert Eugene Bollman, Judy Hill, Lowell Stehlin, Marjorie Baylor. From beginners to primary class, Judy Kalsted, Rachel Bollman, Beverly Gates, Clara Jane Garrison, Caroline Bailey. From primary to junior department, Barbara Degner, Lois Fisher, Fern Thomas, Marie Ikens, Elsie McDuffy, Thomas Garrison, Jerry Traugbber, Edward Baylor, Betty and Marie Ikens played an instrumental duet during the session.

The Ladies' Circle quilt will be auctioned at 8 p. m. by Col. John Gentry at the bazaar Wednesday evening, Oct. 10.

A freak accident is reported to have occurred recently at the Roy Woodlather home where Paul March, assisted by Henry Hanne-man, is drilling a well. A cart-ridge of dynamite evidently went wild or struck a gas pocket and blew out the five-inch pipe, putting a couple of holes in the roof of the house, knocked off a chimney and broke off the base and handle of the pump on an old well. No one was injured and the drillers are continuing their work on the well.

Fire of undetermined origin burned the barn on the O. S. Bays, for farm Friday at about 4 p. m. Hay and straw in the barn were consumed, about half of the coal stored there being saved. Community fire trucks from Amboy and West Brooklyn were there to render assistance.

Grant Conbar of Morton was a recent visitor at the Eri and Mrs. C. E. Conbar homes.

Mrs. Adeline Pomeroy spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Ned Coulson and husband at Glen Ellyn.

The community is pleased to welcome home Sgt. Leroy Hanne-man of the 23rd Armed Eng. Bn., who arrived Friday from Germany on a furlough after serving two years overseas. He is in excellent health and will report in Chicago Oct. 4. Another returned service man who at one time lived in this area is Sgt. Bernell Snyder of the 203d Bomb Group, who arrived in Dixon Sept. 22 to visit his mother, Mrs. Oma Snyder and sister, Mrs. Harold Dunseth, Sgt. Snyder saw service in Casablanca, Africa, shortly before returning home. He has received his honorable discharge after three years of overseas service.

Local Boy Scouts collected waste paper Saturday in what is probably the last drive of the season. This was in compliance with the need of the war department.

June King was home for a week end last week from Henrietta hospital, Chicago, where she is taking nurse's training.

Warren Dale Jain went to the University of Illinois Saturday, where he will take an athletic coach's training. A graduate of the local Community high school, he was awarded a physical education scholarship.

Mrs. Herbert Blodgett of Yates City visited her grandmother, Mrs. Maude Ford recently.

Robert Monner of Chicago spent several days last week with Mrs. Lyle Breitweiser. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Monner of Princeton were also guests at supper at the George King home one evening.

Those from this area who attended the American Legion Open House and stag in Amboy Thursday evening were W. G. Taylor, John Brasel, Fred Jeandane, Carl Mays, Roland Ulrich and Russell Gentry were among the twenty-one new members who joined the Legion post.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leake attended a 6:30 dance bridge party last Thursday evening at the Will Crawford home near Franklin Grove.

Among those who attended the joint meeting in the Amboy Congregational church Sunday evening to hear Dr. Albert W. Palmer of Chicago were the Raymond Degner family Mrs. S. E. Dushong, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parker, Mrs.

Ruth Tallen, Miss Wyvetta Jones, Mrs. C. A. Ulrich, Mrs. F. H. Mynar and Dwight.

The W. J. Leake party while on their recent trip to Florida spent a day and night in Atlanta, Ga., with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mason. They found them well and busy with office work and living in a fine, modern apartment.

Mrs. C. A. Ulrich, Mrs. Charlotte Ulch, Misses Wyvetta Jones and June Robinson drove to Mendota Sunday afternoon to visit the Conrad Yost family and Mrs. Aling Pohl who lives with them.

Mrs. Pohl is waiting the return of her son, S. Sgt. Robert Pohl who has been in the Army 4 1/2 years in two of which he was overseas in England, France, Belgium and Germany. He was expected to join his mother Monday of this week after receiving his honorable discharge at Ft. Sheridan.

Amusements

SELWYN THEATRE

On October 2, "The Voice of the Turtle" with K. T. Stevens, Hugh Marlowe and Vivian Vance starts its second year at the Selwyn Theatre, Chicago. Just as the New York Company of John van Drunten's comedy, produced by Alfred de Laigre, Jr., has broken records for business and attendance during its two and a half seasons, production have been responsible for bringing in the highest grosses of any long-run dramatic play in the history of local theatre-going.

One million dollars has been grossed by the Chicago "Turtle" of this amount, $950,109.00 came in during the Selwyn engagement, the remainder from the two and a half weeks' tryout tour in Buffalo and Detroit. The weekly average in Chicago has been $18,271.00, which exceeds by four thousand dollars that of its nearest competitor among the year long attractions. Some 363,000 persons have been in attendance at the Selwyn during the year.

In the past ten years, only four other attractions in Chicago have passed the first year milestone, "Life With Father," "Good Night Ladies," "Kiss and Tell" and "Oklahoma." The total number of legitimate attractions to have achieved this stay in the Loops entire history is eleven. While the Chicago company of "The Voice of the Turtle" begins its second year, the New York cast is well into its third season at the Morosco Theatre, with Martha Scott, Elliott Nugent and Vicki Cummings in the trio of roles. A third company is scheduled to open in Boston after the first of the year.
